Actions

Working groups

- Evaluation of the Directive 92/57/EC in 2013-2015’
- Certification
- Communications
- Governance

Actions

Removing the bottlenecks to Co-ordination on TMCS

- Encouraging Duty Holders to meet the requirement of the Directive
- Maintaining the appointment of the SHC in the both the preparation and execution phases of a construction project
- Defining the responsibilities and the duties of the Co-ordinator
- Proportionality of the co-ordination function on TMCS
    - Small projects
    - Bringing added value

Actions

- Resolving confusion between the responsibilities of the SHC and the HS-responsibilities of the companies undertaking the construction work

Actions

Removing the bottlenecks to HS Co-ordination on TMCS (continued):

- The SH Co-ordination on “minor” projects
- The independence of the SHC
- The SHC “in name only” – the SHC in the pockets of clients and contractors
- The appointment of the SHC by public tendering
- Political context and economic implications of SH Co-ordination

Actions

- Qualification of the SHC
- Certification of the SHC
- European harmonization of the cross-border aspects
- Link between the HS-plans of the SH Co-ordinator and the SH Specific Prevention plans of the contractors
- Adequacy of the HS-file for later projects
- Insufficient transposition of the ED in some member states of the EU

Our Mission

For all duty-holders: establish health and safety co-ordination as a culture within a social context and actively participate in achieving the ultimate aim of the Directive 92/57 EEC: improving and promoting the health and safety of construction workers at temporary or mobile construction sites.

Our Vision

For all duty-holders:

1. Understand and accept responsibility for a poor design decision
2. Understand and accept responsibility for a poor construction decision
3. Consider our environment
4. Consider the impact of denying the 7 principles of prevention
5. Universal acceptance of the non-binding guide to good practice for understanding the Directive
